The SPEECH of the KING of SWEDEN, addreſſed to the Counſellors of State aſſembled there on the 21*ſt of Auguſt laſt.*

GENTLEMEN,

FILLED with the greateſt uneaſineſs on account of the actual ſituation of the Nation, and obliged to ſet forth the truth in its fulleſt light the moment that the Kingdom is on the brink of the precipice, I now receive you, and you ought not to be ſurpriſed if it is not with the tranſports of joy which my heart felt when you were aſſembled before my Throne. My heart does not permit me to conceal any thing from you. Two different times have I ſpoken to you with all the frankneſs which my vocation required, and with all the ſincerity requiſite to true honour. This ſincerity ſhall this day direct my words, ſince the buſineſs is to call to mind the paſt, in order to amend the preſent. A melancholy truth it is, yet a general one, that hatred and diſcord ſap the foundation of the Kingdom. Long ſince has the Nation been divided into two factions, which divided the People alſo into two different Parties, which united only in the project of annihilating their Country. They know that this diviſion begets rancour, rancour revenge, revenge perſecution, perſecution freſh revolutions, and finally a periodical malady that attacks and deſtroys the whole Body of the State. Theſe violent conculſions have ſhaken the Kingdom, merely through the ambition of ſome Individuals. Hence the torrents of blood ſhed ſometimes by one Party, ſometimes by the other, and ſtill the People were ſure to be the victims of diſſentions which did not in the leaſt concern them; diſſentions, whoſe unhappy conſequences fell immediately upon them, and cruſhed them to the end. To ſtrengthen this violence, was the work and the ſole aim of thoſe who adviſed. All were to ſuffer by it; oftentimes it was at the expence of the Citizens, and always to the detriment of the Kingdom. When the Laws were clear, a contrary ſenſe was ſubſtituted to them. If the matter required to ſupport the Laws, they were ſuppreſſed. Nothing is ſacred to a Party given up to hatred and vengeance. Things were even carried ſo far, that it was publicly declared, a plurality of Votes were above the Law, and that it had no other rule but opinion.

In this manner Liberty, that jewel among the rights of humanity, degenerated into an inſupportable ariſtocratical deſpotiſm, in the hands of a faction which ſuggeſted the expedients.----Nothing has been done in the new Aſſembly of the Kingdom; and far from having thought about the means of providing for the affairs of the Crown, each Party conſidered nothing but how they ſhould ſecure a majority of votes to guard againſt the illegal enterprizes and violence of their Opponents. A ſimilar interior ſituation of the Kingdom had nothing ſurprizing in it, if we conſider that without. I muſt forbear ſpeaking of it. It muſt needs be impoſſible for me, who am born a Swede, and am King of Sweden, to believe that foreign views could have made ſuch an impreſſion on the minds of Swediſh men, eſpecially when they make uſe of the baſeſt means to effect their purpoſe. They know my thoughts, and I ſpare them the pain of judging to what a degree of contempt and diſgrace their diſſentions have expoſed the Kingdom. Such is the conjuncture in which I found myſelf when, by an effect of Providence, I received the Swediſh ſceptre.---They know that I have ſpared no pains to unite them. I have exhorted them, both from the Throne and at other times, to agree together, and conduct themſelves conformably to the Laws. I ſacrificed my private concerns, and whatſoever might be deareſt to me in quality of King. No engagements, no ſteps were painful to me, provided I could but attain an end ſo ſalutary to the whole Country. If any there are amongſt them that diſavow this truth, let them boldly ſtand up, I give them leave.

I did expect, but in vain, my efforts would have diſengaged them from the ſhackles prepared for them by foreign gold, inteſtine hatred, and voluntary violence; and that the dreadful examples of other Countries would have been a leſſon to them. I was abandoned, partly by their Conductors, and partly by themſelves.-----Every fence, as I may ſay, was broken down, every obſtacle deſpiſed; violence took wing, and gained ſtrength by oppoſition. The moſt virtuous, the moſt worthy, and the principal men among the Citizens, are ſacrificed; men in place, advanced in years, known by their capacity and long and faithful ſervices, are degraded; whole bodies of the magiſtracy diſmiſſed from their employments; the forced complaints of the People are conſidered as rebellion, and Liberty at laſt is converted into an ariſtocratical yoke, which no Swede can bear. God himſelf ſeems to have manifeſted his wrath againſt the iniquitous conduct of theſe Regencies. The earth refuſes to produce her fruits, and a ſcarcity deſolates the whole Country. Far from haſtening to apply a remedy in time, whilſt myſelf inſiſted that they ſhould, they ſeemed to me to be more attentive to exerciſe their animoſity than attend to the vigilance of thoſe whom they had inveſted with full powers.---When at laſt neceſſity obliged them to take meaſures to eaſe the People, it was too late. Thus was a whole year glided away, under the holding of a Dyet, burthenſome to the Country, without the leaſt utility.

After that all my repreſentations had produced no effect, and that all my labours had proved fruitleſs, I waited, touched with grief for the calamities of my dear Country, but with a peaceable attention to what the Nation would think of the conduct of her Plenipotentiaries, of my perſon, and of herſelf. One part of the Nation had borne the yoke, ſighing and bewailing, but without ſpeaking, not knowing who to addreſs themſelves to for deliverance, nor what means to put in uſe. In one Province of the Kingdom, deſpair; deſpair having ſeized on their minds, they had taken up arms.

"In ſuch circumſtances, and when even true Liberty and Security were expoſed to the greateſt of all dangers, without conſidering that which threatened my life, I ſaw no other alternative but to ſeize, with the aſſiſtance of Heaven, the means which ſaved from an inſupportable violence and oppreſſion, other free Nations, and Sweden herſelf under the ſtandard of Guſtavus Vaſa. God has bleſſed my work, and I have ſeen, on a ſudden, revive in the hearts of my Subjects, for their Country, the ſame ſentiments that heretofore animated Engelbert and Guſtavus Trichſon. All has ſucceeded, and I have freed myſelf, and my Kingdom, without the concurrence of any Citizen. Thoſe who ſhall believe, that I have ſought any thing beſides Liberty and equity will be groſly deceived.----This vow is the more holy as it is voluntary, and what has paſſed now ſhall not divert me from a deſign which is not founded in neceſſity, but on conviction. Far from any intention to abridge Liberty, I had, on the contrary, no other object but to aboliſh violence, and change the whimſy that governed the Kingdom into a regular and permanent regency, ſuch as it was upheld by the ancient law of Sweden, and in the manner in which this Kingdom was governed under my illuſtrious predeceſſors. The end that I propoſed to myſelf in all that I have now undertaken, is to render firm a juſt Liberty, that may make all my worthy ſubjects happy; ſecure all their poſſeſſions under the protection of the laws; maintain them in the true exerciſe of their lawful profeſſions; make them experience an adminiſtration of juſtice, exempt from partiality; enforce good order in the towns and the country; labour carefully for the advancement of the public good; procure the peaceable enjoyment of it, and finally to promote the fear of God with a pure conſcience, without fanaticiſm and ſuperſtition.

Nevertheleſs all this cannot take place, unleſs the Kingdom is governed by an immutable law, without wreſting the ſenſe of it; a law, that equally binds the King and the States, and that cannot be abrogated or changed but by a free re-union of the one and the other, which permits a King, zealous for his country to deliberate thereon with the States, without their regarding him as a terror, of whom they are afraid; and, finally, that between the King and the States, there be but one common intereſt for the good of the Kingdom: Such a law, of a reciprocal obligation for me and for them, is what ſhall be read to them immediately.

From all that I have now ſaid, they will eaſily underſtand, that far from having had on my ſide the leaſt private view, all has been done for the love of the Country. Beſides, as I was obliged to ſet forth the truth in its fulleſt light, I have laid it before them, without the leaſt acrimony, but with tokens of my inclination for their real good. Therefore, I do not doubt but they will accept the whole with gratitude, and eſtabliſh jointly with me their true proſperity and liberty, on a ſolid and unſhakeable foundation.

Great Monarchs, whoſe memory will be ever immortal, have ſwayed the Sceptre I this day hold. Certainly I ſhall want ſomething more than boldneſs to equal them in any ſort. Nevertheleſs, I will with them redouble my attachment and love; and if they have but one heart for the country, I hope that the Swediſh name will recover the honour and eſteem which it had acquired in the days of our anceſtors. The Supreme Being, before whom nothing is hidden, knows this moment the bottom of my heart! May he vouchſafe to ſhower down his graces and bleſſings on the accompliſhment of his decree!"

It is now confidently aſſerted that the Parliament will not be permitted to meet till the latter end of January, or beginning of February next, there being a great deal of buſineſs preparing by government, which will not be ready to be laid before that Aſſembly till the above time.

SEPTEMBER 18. A correſpondent from Stockholm informs us of the following intelligence: "When the King came down into the Court-yard, the 19*th of Auguſt, he addreſſed the guard, acquainting them with his grievances, and took of them their oaths of allegiance, which the common ſoldiers and the law officers immediately did: But Count Heſſenſtein, who had the command of the guard that day, ſeeing, to his great ſurpriſe, all the officers and ſoldiers taking the aboveſaid oath without his order and advice, when his Majeſty demanded the ſame oath from him, the Count made him the following anſwer:* "Sire, I am not baſe nor mean enough to betray my country and nation, and its ancient conſtitution; on the contrary, I am ſo much a patriot as to become a victim for the good of my nation, and have ſpirit enough to releaſe this preſent moment (drawing his ſword) my nation from the ſlavery which threatens it, by the point of this inſtrument; but, not to drive away force by force, and hoping due juſtice will be done, as well at home as abroad, here I deliver you my ſword, and am your priſoner till I hope to be your judge. Upon which exemplary inſtance of public virtue, the Count was ſecured and taken into cuſtody. Several officers of the artillery followed his example, delivered their ſwords, and were alſo ſecured."

A letter from Stockholm ſays, "The 19*th of Auguſt, which will be ever memorable in the annals of this kingdom, bore the appearance rather of a public feſtival than a revolution. The people were all abroad, and more joyful countenances were never ſeen. As the King paſſed along the ſtreet, the old men raiſed their hands towards Heaven, in adoration and thankſgiving, for being permitted, as they expreſſed it, to live to ſee that bleſſed day. The women ran with their children up to the horſe which the King rode, and thoſe were happieſt who could kiſs his boots, and make their children do the like. All the maſts and rigging of the ſhips in the river were crowded, and the water-ſide and quays were lined with people, rending the air with repeated ſhouts of* "Long live the King."

His Excellency the Ruſſian Ambaſſador, has received advices from his Court, which inform him with certainty that, though the preliminaries of peace are not yet finally ſettled, the belligerent powers are ſo extremely deſirous of terminating the war, that in a few months every thing will be adjuſted to the ſatisfaction of the high contending parties, who at laſt perceive that there is no glory in ſlaughtering their people.

Wedneſday the French Ambaſſador ſet out with a ſplendid retinue from Great-George-ſtreet, Weſtminſter, in order to make a tour through England, Scotland, and Ireland, whence his Excellency returns hither by the meeting of Parliament.

HAGUE, September 11. According to advices from Vienna, the Imperial Court is not very well pleaſed that Ruſſia and the Porte, are unwilling to admit her Miniſter Plenipotentiary to the conferences held at the congreſs of Fockzany, which ſhe conſiders as a kind of diſtruſt entertained by thoſe powers of her mediation; but as the Miniſter of the Court of Berlin is treated in the ſame manner, ſhe is in ſome meaſure conſoled, though ſhe cannot conceal her diſcontent on the occaſion. Theſe letters add, that it is generally thought the Emperor and the King of Pruſſia will have a freſh interview to conſer together, both on the affairs of Poland, and on the refuſal to admit their Miniſters to the conferences at Fockzany.

Letters from Warſaw inform us, that all the accounts received there from Fockzany are very ſatisfactory, that the negociations of peace continue to go on in a ſucceſsful manner, and that there is reaſon to ſuppoſe, that in a ſhort time the great work of a pacification will be brought to a ſtability; at leaſt there is good foundation for preſuming that this happy epoch is not far off. Theſe letters add, that the Court of Peterſburgh appears firmly reſolved not to declare herſelf, before the concluſion of a peace with the Porte, relative to the affairs of Poland, conſequently till then that object will remain undecided and in its preſent ſituation.

BOSTON, NOVEMBER 2.

Thurſday laſt the following Meſſage was delivered to his Excellency the Governor, viz.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

THE Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the town of Boſton, legally aſſembled in Faneuil Hall, beg leave to acquaint your Excellency, that a report has prevailed, which they have reaſon to apprehend is well grounded, that ſtipends are affixed to the offices of the Judges of the Superior Court of Judicature, &c. of this province, whereby they are become independent of the grants of the General Aſſembly for their ſupport; contrary to ancient and invariable uſage. This report has ſpread an alarm among all conſiderate perſons who have heard of it, in town and country; being viewed as tending rapidly to compleat the ſyſtem of their ſlavery; which originated in the Houſe of Commons of Great-Britain, aſſuming a power and authority to give and grant the monies of the coloniſts without their conſent, and againſt their repeated remonſtrances. And, as the Judges hold their places during pleaſure, this eſtabliſhment appears big with fatal evils, ſo obvious that it is needleſs to treſpaſs on your Excellency's time in mentioning them.

It is therefore the humble and earneſt requeſt of the town, that your Excellency would be pleaſed to inform them, whether you have received any ſuch advice relating to a matter ſo deeply intereſting to the Inhabitants of this province, which gives you aſſurance that ſuch an eſtabliſhment has been, or is likely to be made.

Atteſt. WILLIAM COOPER, Town-Clerk.

On Friday the town met according to adjournment, and the Committee, which had been appointed to wait on the Governor, reported from his Excellency the following Anſwer to their Meſſage, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

IT is by no means proper for me to lay before the Inhabitants of any town whatſoever in conſequence of their votes and proceedings in a town meeting, any part of my correſpondence as Governor of the Province, or to acquaint them whether I have, or have not, received any advices relating to the public affairs of the government. This reaſon alone, if your Addreſs to me had been in other reſpects unexceptionable, would have been ſufficient to reſtrain me from complying with your deſire.

I ſhall always be ready to gratify the Inhabitants of the town of Boſton, upon every regular application to me on buſineſs of public concernment to the town, as far as I ſhall have it in my power, conſiſtent with fidelity to the truſt which his Majeſty has repoſed in me.

T. HUTCHINSON.

Province-Houſe, October 30, 1772.

in Town-Meeting aſſembled at Faneuil-Hall.

The foregoing Anſwer being read, it was moved that a Committee be appointed to prepare a humble petition to the Governor, praying that he would be pleaſed to order a Seſſion of the General Aſſembly at the time to which it now ſtands prorogued; and Mr. Otis, Mr. Adams, and Mr. Cuſhing, were appointed accordingly. Who reported a draft; which being read, it was voted that the ſame gentlemen who had before carried the Meſſage of the town, wait on his Excellency with the following Petition, viz.

To his Excellency the GOVERNOR of the province.

The PETITION of the Freeholders and other Inhabitants of the town of Boſton, legally aſſembled by adjournment in Faneuil-Hall, on Friday October 30, 1772.

Humbly ſheweth,

THAT your Petitioners are ſtill greatly alarmed at the report which has been prevalent of late, viz. That ſtipends are affixed to the offices of the Judges of the Superior Court of Judicature of this province, by order of the Crown, for their ſupport.

Such an eſtabliſhment is contrary, not only to the plain and obvious ſenſe of the charter of this province, but alſo to ſome of the fundamental principles of the common law; to the benefit of which, all Britiſh ſubjects, wherever diſperſed throughout the Britiſh empire, are indubitably entitled.

Such a jealouſy, have the ſubjects of England for their rights, liberties, and privileges, and ſo tender a regard has been ſhown to them by his Majeſty, that notwithſtanding the proviſion made at the revolution, that the Judges of the King's Superior Courts of Law there, ſhould hold their commiſſions, not at pleaſure, but during good behavior; and ſince that time for their ſupport, his Majeſty among other the firſt acts of his reign, was graciouſly pleaſed to recommend it to Parliament, and an act paſſed, that their commiſſions ſhould not ceaſe at the demiſe of the King; whereby every thing poſſible in human wiſdom ſeems to have been done, to eſtabliſh an impartiality in their deciſions, not only between Subject and Subject, but between the Crown and Subject---Of how much greater importance muſt it be to preſerve from the leaſt ſuppoſeable bias, the Judges of a Court, inveſted by the laws of this province, which has been approved of by Majeſty, with powers as fully and amply to all intents and purpoſes whatſoever, as the Courts of King's-Bench, Common-Pleas, and Exchequer, within his Majeſty's kingdom of England have, or ought to have.

Your Excellency will allow your petitioners, with due ſubmiſſion to repeat, that this eſtabliſhment appears to them pregnant with ſuch fatal evils, as that the moſt diſtant thought of its taking effect fills their minds with dread and horror.

Theſe Sir, are the ſentiments and apprehenſions of this metropolis: Expreſſed however, with due deference to the ſentiments of the province, with which your petitioners are anxiouſly ſolicitous of being made acquainted.

It is therefore their earneſt and humble requeſt, that your Excellency would be pleaſed to allow the General Aſſembly to meet at the time to which it now ſtands prorogued; in order, that in that conſtitutional body, with whom it is to inquire into grievances and redreſs them, the joint wiſdom of the province may be employed, in deliberating and determining on a matter ſo important and alarming.

Then the meeting was further adjourned till Monday (this day) at three of the clock in the afternoon; to receive an Anſwer to the Petition, and take ſuch further meaſures as this important affair may require.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in London, to his friend in this town, dated Auguſt 24, 1772.

"We hear that Peter Levius, Eſq; is appointed Chief-Juſtice and Secretary of the province of New-Hampſhire, with a ſalary of £.200 per annum.---By this appointment, I hope the grievances of the people of that province will in some measure be removed, which they have so long complained of."

Monday last was celebrated the Anniversary of his Majesty's Accession to the Throne, when he entered the 13th year of his Reign.

On this occasion, his Excellency's Company of Cadets, commanded by the Honourable Colonel Hancock, had their fourth training.---The Company being under arms, and in uniform dress, made a very fine and respectable appearance, they were exercised on the Common until noon, when having refreshed themselves at the Colonel's, they marched into King-street, where after firing three vollies, they performed the manual exercise, a variety of evolutions, with platoon, street, and other firings, in a very regular manner, and to the great pleasure of a vast number of spectators.---In the afternoon they again went through a number of military manœuvres, and finished with firing a feu de joy. Their performances in the opinion of good judges were equal to any corps that ever performed in this town.

NOVEMBER 9. At the adjournment of the Town-Meeting last Monday afternoon, the Committee appointed to present a petition to his Excellency the Governor of the province, reported, and laid before the town the following reply, which his Excellency had been pleased to deliver them in writing, viz.

GENTLEMEN,

THE Royal Charter reserves to the Governor full power and authority from time to time, as he shall judge necessary to adjourn, prorogue and dissolve the General Assembly.

In the exercise of this power, both as to time and place, I have always been governed by a regard to his Majesty's service and to the interest of the province.

It did not appear to me necessary for those purposes that the Assembly should meet at the time to which it now stands prorogued, and, before I was informed of your Address, I had determined to prorogue it to a further time.

The reasons which you have advanced have not altered my opinion.

If, notwithstanding, in compliance with your petition, I should alter my determination and meet the Assembly, contrary to my own judgment, at such time as you judge necessary, I should, in effect, yield to you the exercise of that part of the prerogative, and should be unable to justify my conduct to the King.

There would, moreover, be danger of encouraging the inhabitants of the other towns in the province to assemble, from time to time, in order to consider of the necessity or expediency of a session of the General Assembly, or to debate and transact other matters which the law that authorises towns to assemble does not make the business of a town meeting. T. HUTCHINSON.

Province House, November 2, 1772.

To the Inhabitants of the town of Boston,

In Town-Meeting assembled at Faneuil-Hall.

This reply having been read several times and duly considered; it was moved, and the question accordingly put,---Whether the same be satisfactory to the town, which passed in the negative, nem. con.

And thereupon resolved as the opinion of the Inhabitants of this town, That they have ever had, and ought to have a right to petition the King or his representative for the redress of such grievances as they feel, or for preventing of such as they have reason to apprehend, and to communicate their sentiments to other towns.

It was then moved, That a committee of correspondence be appointed to consist of twenty-one persons, to state the rights of the colonists, and of this province in particular, as men, as christians, and as subjects; to communicate and publish the same to the several towns in this province, and to the world, as the sense of this town, with the infringements and violations thereof that have been, or from time to time may be made.---Also, requesting of each town a free communication of their sentiments on this subject.---And the question being accordingly put---it passed in the affirmative, nem. con.

A committee of twenty-one persons was then appointed for the purposes aforesaid, of which the Hon. James Otis, Esq; is chairman; and they were desired to report to the town as soon as may be.

Attest. WILLIAM COOPER, Town-Clerk.

Tuesday last his Excellency the Governor was pleased to prorogue the Great and General Court or Assembly of this province to Wednesday the 6th day of January next.

NEWPORT, (Rhode-Island) NOVEMBER 2.

Last Friday P. M. we had a very severe storm of wind, rain, thunder and lightening; in the midst of which several vessels arrived, belonging to this and the neighbouring colonies; notwithstanding the violence of the gale rendered it impossible, with any degree of safety, for a vessel to pay those mere compliments to his Majesty's ship stationed here, which in a moderate time might unreasonably be expected, several shot were fired from the Mercury at those vessels, which were flying into this harbour for an asylum from the storm, one of which shot would inevitably have gone through a sloop's bottom, had it not been intercepted by a rock at the north-end of Goat-Island, which lay between the ship and the sloop.---How Capt. Keeler can justify such rash proceedings, we are at a loss to conceive; of this we are morally certain, that had not the shot been providentially obstructed, the sloop must have been sunk, and all the people perished, as it was not in his power, at that time, with all his crew, to afford them any assistance.

The Honourable General Assembly last week refused to admit inoculation, for the small-pox, in this colony.

NOVEMBER 9. On the 21st of September, Mr. Silvanus Ripley, and his companion and interpreter Lieut. Joseph Taylor, returned to Dartmouth college from their mission to the Indian tribes in Canada, and brought with them ten children from those tribes, to receive an education at that school; two of them are children of English captives, who were taken by the Indians in former wars, one of them a grandson, about 8 years old, of Mr. Tarbull, who was taken from Groton about sixty years ago; he greatly rejoiced to see them on this occasion: The old gentleman was hearty and well, and expressed great affection to his relations in New-England, and desired they might be informed of his welfare; he was the eldest chief of that village.-----A grandson of Mrs. Eunice Williams, who was captivated with her father, the Rev. Mr. Williams, of Deerfield, in the year 1704, would have come with them, but was sick with the measles; but he is expected in the spring.----The number of Indian children at that school is 18.

Mrs. Catharine Macaulay, one of the lights of the present age, and the celebrated female historian, by the hands of Henry Marchant, Esq; late Agent for this colony, has generously presented the REDWOOD LIBRARY, in this town, with a copy of her works, being six volumes in quarto, of a new and most beautiful edition; which she has sent, as she is pleased to say, as a "Testimony of her regard to the people of the FREE COLONY of RHODE-ISLAND."

Dr. RYAN'S Incomparable WORM-DESTROYING SUGAR PLUMBS.

Dr. HILL'S genuine TINCTURE of VALERIAN. This pleasant Cordial and enlivening Medicine, is good against all Nervous Disorders, Fits, Head-Achs, Weakness, Heaviness, and Lowness of Spirits, Dimness of the Sight, Vapours and Melancholy, all Kinds of Convulsions, and Hysteric Complaints, Epilepsies, as also against the Sickness of the Stomach, and Flatulencies, Obstructions, and the Convulsive Asthma, &c. The proper Use in all the above Cases, may be seen in the Directions given with each Bottle.

Dr. BOERHAAVE'S GRAND BALSAM of HEALTH. An admirable Remedy for the Dry Belly-Ach, Cholic, Griping in the Bowels, Pain in the Stomach; it cleanses the Stomach, and procures an Appetite.

ESSENCE of BALM of GILEAD, a grand Restorative of decayed Nature, good in all Seminal Weaknesses, Hypochondriacal and Nervous Disorders, with the Variety of Symptoms which indicate a weak and infirm Constitution.

Its cordial and balmy Quality, renders it also an agreeable palatable Liquor, and prodigiously refreshing in the sultry Heat of Summer; preventing those Sinkings which over-power the Spirits in hot Weather. The proper Use of this noble Medicine may be seen in the Directions.

STOMACHIC LOZENGES. They strengthen and fortify by their balsamic and nutritive Virtues, the tender Vessels of the Stomach, help Digestion, and promote Chylification; they melt in the Mouth like Sugar, are of a most agreeable taste, and fail not to correct the Breath, and the impure Exhalations of the Stomach.

Where also may be had,

JOYCE'S GREAT AMERICAN BALSAM, extracted from the best Medicinal Herbs, &c. for the Cure of the following Disorders, incident to human Nature; proved from Experience in New-York, Long-Island, and elsewhere, to equal, and rather exceed any Balsam, Essence, or Elixir, &c. exported from Europe here, for the several Disorders hereafter mentioned.

For common green or fresh Wounds, it heals at once or twice dressing, by closing the Lips of the Wound, and laying on the Wound a Pledgit of Lint dipt in the Balsam. In Nervous Wounds, where the Blood Vessels are divided, &c. it stops the Blood immediately, and heals by a few Applications. For the Cure of the most inveterate Ulcers, only wash them and keep them clean, using first if there be any proud Flesh, a common Cauttick, to take the Excrescence away, then apply the Balsam on Lint. If the Ulcers should happen to be fistulous, inject by a Syringe and after close the Orifice with a Pledgit dipt in the Balsam, and so repeat. There are Witnesses undeniable of the Balsam alone curing a Fistula in Ano, now present in New-York: The Author of this Balsam, (under God) will engage to cure a Fistula in Ano, even if the Rectum is perforated, without Incision, except as much by a Lancet to make Way for Injection, and no more. For the Cure of Colds, attended with violent Coughing, Pains in the Breast, Inflammation in the Throat and Glands, Difficulty of Breathing, being obstructed by tough viscid Phlegm; by taking a Tea Spoonful of the Balsam, mixed with Sugar or Honey, it quickly cures, taken twice a Day, Morning fasting, and at Night going to Bed. It is exceeding good in all Manner of Swellings; for violent Falls or inward Bruises, nothing is better, for it scatters coadgulated Blood, and stops Blood that might be occasioned by the inward Parts being hurt, or a Rexis of Vessels inwardly. In the Cure of Pleurisy, after Bleeding (where it is required) give a Tea Spoonful three Times a Day, in Sugar, and between Times now and then 20 or 30 Drops of spirituous Nitri dulcis, that is the sweet Spirits of Nitre.---It cures Consumptions in them that are not too far gone, except they pass the Age of Fifty, by taking of it inwardly three Times a Day, a full Tea Spoonful mixt with Sugar or Honey, each Dose. It strengthens the Nerves, and is good in all Nervous Disorders, by taking of it inwardly, and anointing the Parts outwardly, keeping warm.

THE AGUE TINCTURE.

The Patient must take a Table Spoonful of the ELIXIR, two Hours before the Approach of the Fit, and be immediatly put to Bed, and excited to sweat, by being very warmly covered. Every Half Hour repeat the Dose in the same Quantity, until he or she has taken Four; you are to observe the giving it with a little Sugar, to make it palatable, and let the last Dose be given just as the Fit comes on; this will infallibly perform the Cure.

 Shop and Waſte PAPER to be ſold at Crouch's Printing-Office, in Elliott-ſtreet.

Charles-Town, July 14, 1772.

THE Subſcriber is much obliged to his planting Friends, who, by landing their Crops at his Wharf for three Years paſt, have thereby introduced it to Buſineſs.---He acted as Factor during that Time, purely to prevent his Friends being Sufferers by their intended Kindneſs to him, as it was very induſtriouſly inſinuated, that Rice would not ſell at his Wharf: But as he is now well convinced, and flatters himſelf all his Friends are fully ſo too, that their Crops landed in large or ſmall Parcels, will ſell altogether as well at his Wharf, as at any other in Charles-Town; and that any Gentlemen, principally concerned in the Factorage Way, will now have no Objection to receive and ſell Rice or Indico landed thereat: He therefore chooſes to decline that Buſineſs, finding it more than he is able to go through. He hopes his good Friends will ſtill land their Crops at his Wharf, where they may depend he ſhall take Care HIMSELF that their Boats have all poſſible Diſpatch.

As to the Safety and Conveniency of his Docks and Stores, he is ſure there are none preferable to them in Town in thoſe Reſpects, and few (if any) Barns in the Country are cooler and more ſecure from Fire; and 'tis almoſt impoſſible for a Barrel of Rice to be loſt or ſtolen in Landing or Shipping at his Wharf. Such Gentlemen as uſe his Wharf conſtantly, may depend on never wanting Storage whenever they do not like the going Price:---No prudent Planter but muſt be convinced, that this is a Matter of the utmoſt Conſequence to him, as many, for theſe three Years paſt, have had their Crops (when landed in Town) diſpoſed of very much againſt their own Inclinations and Judgments, merely for Want of Storage; and this he is ſure has been the Caſe, particularly this Year ſeveral Times, notwithſtanding the Shortneſs of the Crop.

Meſſrs. GIBBES & HORT,

Who have had long Experience in the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, and confine themſelves to that only, have taken the Charge of his Scales, and will tranſact their Buſineſs on his Wharf.---To theſe Gentlemen he begs Leave to recommend ſuch of his Friends who are not otherwiſe engaged.

Chriſtopher Gadſden.

N. B. Any Gentlemen in Trade may depnd on not wanting STORAGE for ſuch Parcels of Rice as they purchaſe at his Wharf.

GIBBES & HORT,

ACQUAINT THEIR FRIENDS,

THAT they continue the FACTORAGE BUSINESS in all its Branches, (on the uſual Terms) and for the Conveniency of good Storage, will tranſact it on Captain GADSDEN's Wharf, where they deſire thoſe of their Friends that it may be agreeable to, will Order ſuch Goods as they ſhall direct to their Care, being convinced that they will ſell as well there as at any other Place in Charles-Town. Conſtant Attendance will alſo be given at their other COMPTING-HOUSE on the Bay.----Their Friends will be ſupplied with proper Boats, agreeable to their Orders; and they hope to merit a Continuance of their Favors, by a ſteady Attention to their Employers Intereſt, eſpecially as they are determined to confine themſelves to the FACTORAGE BUSINESS only; and they aſſure their Friends that they are not in any wiſe intereſted in Captain GADSDEN's Stores, ſo that whenever they ſhall think it prudent to Store for a better Market, it muſt be ſolely with a View to their Friends Intereſt.

N. B. Wanted to attend on ſaid WHARF, a Perſon well qualified and recommended.
